Discussion on necessary actions by auditors in connection with the revision of the quarterly disclosure system

- A written opinion was handed to Parliamentary Vice-Minister Kanda at the General Meeting of the Business Accounting Council -

On March 12, 2024, the General Meeting of the Business Accounting Council*<sup>1</sup> was held to discuss "Revision of the Quarterly Review Standards to be Replaced with the Interim Review Standards and Consequential Amendments to Quality Control Standards for Auditing (hereinafter referred to as the "Interim Review Standards, etc.") and recent trends in disclosure, accounting and auditing.

1. Interim Review Standards

With regard to the quarterly reporting system based on the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, the Working Group on Corporate Disclosure of the Financial System Council reported the direction that the current statutory quarterly securities reports should be abolished and unified into quarterly earnings reports (kessan tanshin) required under the Exchange Regulations, and that the audit review should be left at the discretion of each company instead of making it mandatory. Accordingly, the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act was revised, and the Act for Partial Revision of the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act (Act No. 79 of November 29, 2023) was enacted on November 20, 2023.

Against this background, based on the discussion at the General Meeting of the Business Accounting Council held in April 2023, the Audit Standard Committee began deliberating on the necessary measures on the auditor's review to be taken in connection with the revision of quarterly disclosure requirements from September 2023 and compiled proposals to revise the quarterly review standards to the interim review standards.

Revision of Auditor Review Standards

□ With regard to the review standards by auditors, while the current standards (quarterly review standards) only cover reviews in quarterly securities reports, which are to be abolished, the Audit Standard Committee of the Business Accounting Council prepared a proposal to revise the standards to cover various interim reviews, including quarterly earnings reports (proposal for interim review standards), and it was finalized at the General Meeting of the Business Accounting Council in March 2024.

* There are two roles of audit review; one is a conclusion regarding compliance, which assesses whether the financial statements comply with the rules of presentation, and the other is a conclusion regarding appropriateness, which assesses whether the financial statements are presented appropriately as a whole for the proper understanding of users. The quarterly review standards required only the conclusion regarding appropriateness, while the interim review standards require both the conclusion regarding appropriateness and that regarding compliance.

*1 Please refer to https://www.fsa.go.jp/singi/singi\_kigyousiryou/kaikei/20240305.html for the agenda and handouts.

This revision proposal changes the name of the quarterly review standards to the interim review standards, as it is common to all interim reviews conducted by auditors who audit annual financial statements, including reviews on quarterly earnings reports (kessan tanshin), in addition to reviews on interim financial statements under the revised Financial Instruments and Exchange Act. And it also introduces a form of conclusion regarding compliance in addition to the form of conclusion regarding appropriateness (of disclosure) stipulated in the current quarterly review standards. *<sup>2</sup> This revision clarifies that the interim review will be performed in accordance with the interim audit standards, which are generally accepted as fair and proper standards, and will help ensure the reliability of the review and disclosure information.

At this General Meeting, after Mr. Horie, Chairperson of the Audit Standard Committee, explained the background and outline of the establishment of the interim review standards, etc., a written opinion on the interim review standards, etc., was compiled in the name of the General Meeting of the Business Accounting Council. *<sup>3</sup>

Chairperson Horie handed the written opinion to Parliamentary Vice-Minister Kanda, and in response to this, Mr. Kanda stated the following:

- In order to promote Japan as a Leading Asset Management Center under "New Form of Capitalism" policy, corporate information must be disclosed in a timely and appropriate manner, and the trust of domestic and foreign investors in Japan's financial and capital markets must be ensured; and

- It is important that our country's accounting and auditing system infrastructure should be continuously improved through discussions at the Business Accounting Council.

2. Recent Trends in Disclosure, Accounting and Auditing

At the same time, the secretariat explained recent trends in disclosure, accounting, and auditing,*<sup>4</sup> followed by discussions, and then it was approved that the Audit Standard Committee would deliberate on the "Measures to be Taken in Accordance with the Revision of International Standard on Auditing concerning Going Concern Assumption and Fraud."

*<sup>2</sup> There are two roles of an audit review: one is a conclusion regarding compliance, which assesses whether the financial statements comply with the rules of presentation, and the other is a conclusion regarding appropriateness, which assesses whether the financial statements are presented appropriately as a whole for the proper understanding of users. The quarterly review standards required only the conclusion regarding appropriateness, while the interim review standards require both the conclusion regarding appropriateness and that regarding compliance.

*<sup>3</sup> The publication of the "Opinion on Revision of the Quarterly Review Standards to the Interim Review Standards" and the "Opinion on Revision of Quality Control Standards for Audits" on March 27, 2024:
<https://www.fsa.go.jp/news/r5/sonota/20240327-2/20240327.html>

*<sup>4</sup> The secretariat explained the study on disclosure and assurance of sustainability information, compliance with international accounting standards, international trends in accounting standards, and major revisions to International Standard on Auditing, etc.

The 13th Japan Securities Summit

- Vice Minister for International Affairs Ariizumi gave the introductory speech -

On March 6, the 13th Japan Securities Summit was held at Mansion House in London, co-hosted by the Japan Securities Dealers Association (JSDA), the Japan Exchange Group, Inc. (JPX) and the International Capital Market Association (ICMA).

According to the JSDA, it was the first face-to-face meeting in London in five years, and about 300 local financial institutions and institutional investors participated.

At the beginning of the summit, Prime Minister Kishida delivered a video message, followed by a keynote speech by KIHARA Seiji, a member of the House of Representatives, on measures to realize the New Form of Capitalism, such as the Doubling Asset-based Income Plan and initiatives to promote Japan as a leading asset management center, under the message "Don't miss the opportunity to invest in Japan."

From the FSA, Vice Minister for International Affairs Ariizumi gave a lead speech on the theme of "Promoting Japan as a Leading Asset Management Center." At the beginning of his speech, Mr. Ariizumi objectively analyzed the current state of the Japanese economy using data from various macroeconomic indicators such as GDP, CPI and ROE. Then he presented the initiatives toward realization of Japan as a leading asset management center in a comprehensive and detailed manner. Specifically, he explained the launch of the new NISA system, legislation for the customer-oriented business management of financial institutions, corporate governance reform, special zones for financial and asset management businesses, and asset owner principles.

The materials used in the speech by Vice Minister for International Affairs Ariizumi are available on the FSA website.

The panel discussion was moderated by Ms. Ana Nicholls (Director of Industry Analysis) of the Economist Group, and as panelists, Ms. Stefanie Drews (President, Nikko Asset Management Co.,Ltd.), Mr. IKEDA Yunosuke (Chief Equity Strategist, Market Strategy Research Department, Nomura Securities Co., Ltd.), and Mr. James Gautrey (Portfolio Manager, Global and International Equities, Schroders plc.) attended in addition to Vice Minister for International Affairs Ariizumi.

Comments from the person in charge: NAGOYA Tomohiro, Deputy Director, International Securities, Office of International Affairs, Planning and Management Division, Strategy Development and Management Bureau, FSA

The Nikkei Stock Average (the closing price base) exceeded its bubble high for the first time in 34 years in late February, just before the Japan Securities Summit, and exceeded 40,000 yen two days before the summit on March 4. Against this background, the meeting attracted interest from overseas institutional investors regarding "Is Japan's strong stock market temporary, like a bubble, or a good sign that it will continue?" and related questions about the Japanese government's measures to promote Japan as a leading asset management center. Many speakers expressed positive opinions about the future expansion, etc. of investment in Japanese companies, indicating the high level of interest in the Japanese market.

Editorial Postscript

This month's issue features events promoting the appeal of Japanese finance held both in Japan and the United Kingdom. I have the impression that more and more overseas financial professionals are coming to Japan as the season gets warmer. Every day I think about how to convey Japan's charms to the world and how to create messages for that purpose. I will make efforts to create communications that reach the world by studying how the rest of the world communicates its charms.

Now that the new school and business year is here, I often see many freshly-dressed new members of society and students wearing new uniforms at the station in the morning, which reminds me of my first fresher feelings. We are studying not only the content of messages but also the means to convey them to reexamine how we should communicate our policy. Based on the feedback from many people, now we are preparing a new form of the issue, so please stay tuned.
